

KEEP TRACK OF CRUCIAL SHIPMENTS

SIMMS streamlines shipping and receiving operations facilitating quicker processing and the ability to track important additional information required for shipments. Informative packing slips reduce manual handling via picking lists. SIMMS gives your staff the necessary resources to improve customer satisfaction. You can ship directly from sales invoices or on a scheduled date. Sales staff can spot delayed shipments or backlogs in shipping, before they become a problem.

WHAT SIMMS CAN DO FOR YOUR BUSINESS

- Gives you far greater control of your shipments
- Assists you to reduce shipping costs

The Inventory Software you can rely on

SHIPPING MANAGER MODULE FEATURES

- Packing slips are generated from invoices themselves, so when the shipping department picks items from the packing slip, there is no worry about incorrect data.
- Modify receipts to account for freight costs and handling charges levied by vendors at a later date by adding a line item in the receipt with the price and description of the charge then re-save the receipt.
- Enter shipment ETAs by selecting the date the shipment is expected in the “Estimated Arrival Date” field.
- Track the dates of each shipment automatically by configuring inventory items with their default weights. SIMMS then utilises this information when shipping, although you can override the weight at the shipping stage if you require.
- Track the number of boxes assigned – to a shipment by assigning each box a label and assigning orders (or individual items from orders) to each box within a shipment. This gives you the ability to track how many boxes per shipment were utilised, and what labels each of the boxes labels had.
- Issue or receive items from/to more than one stock location on a single invoice/receipt.
- Combine multiple orders into single shipments and save money.
- Select alternate ship-to locations at the stage of shipping or add a new ship-to address on the fly.
- Enter several lines of instructions in the Shipping Manager if you have important shipping information that needs to accompany the shipment.
